“ Paul had been a friend of mine since we met at King’s Daughter’s school in Columbia. We worked with special needs children, and his big heart was so apparent. Paul was gentle, kind and patient with the kids. Working with Paul blossomed into a beautiful years long friendship. We had some lapses in communication and at times long periods would go between, but no matter how or when we were able to reconnect it was as if no time had gone by. This last summer I had a handful of opportunities to spend time with him. He taught me to cut my grass with a push mower and weed-eat even! We had several good laughs over this. He was generous with his time and kindness. I feel my life had been better by knowing Paul, and am sad he is no longer with us. Until we meet again, old friend.
