“ What a blessed opportunity to have befriended and to have been befriended by this straight-forward speaking man, Al, and his soft-voiced, kind wife, Phyllis. We always felt welcome at their home. Whenever we were in the area, we would look to see if Al was outside working his land. He was an unpaid watchman over our church across the street and he would notify someone whenever he saw something questionable and it was much appreciated. When we saw him, we knew that he would say, "How we doing?" He will be missed!
