“ Hate to know that my aunt is gone. She was always there for me and always gave me sage advise. No one will ever be able to replace her, her kindness, her strength and her savvy ways of dealing with the public, we should always be thankful that she set the bar high for us to attempt to follow. I have also lost my second mother after my own mother passed Away. How do you fill a void like this? Thank God I have the snow family grit to stay in the battle we call life and carry on the family legacy for the next generations. I hope I have made aunt wilma proud.
