“ Austin was very precious. I could ask him to help me Do anything. His answer was always yes ma'am. He was like a son to me. He always had respect which is so rare these days. I will miss him dearly.

“ I remember the short time that my sister and her family lived in Boise, Idaho were I reside. Austin was a skinny little boy with a southern drawl as big as Texas. I remember him coming in my kitchen and asking me for a cookie. Before I would give him a cookie I would make him recite the words from a Shake an Bake commercial. “It’s Shake and Bake, and I helped” For those of you that are to young to remember the commercial it was about a mom cooking chicken using the cooking spices and coating from a shake and bake package. The kid in the commercial has a great southern drawl as did Austin. So my good natured nephew would always oblige me and recite the line from the commercial so he could get his cookie. Austin was such an easy, funny and compassionate guy. I wish I had lived closer to him as he grew up. It was a pleasure to be his aunt. I know he brought good in every life he touched. Until we meet again sweet Austin. Love you Aunt Kim.

Austin was always such a trooper! He had a great sense of humor and always played along with our “many family pranks”. What a great kid he was, and one who eventually grew to be a great man! I will forever love and miss him, but have peace in my heart knowing we will all be reunited one day! Fly high my sweet boy, mama loves you so much!
