Carol, I know how lost you must feel. There are too many memories to begin to name them. I knew the last time he played his bass at Church and I played the piano would be his last if God didn't perform a miracle. Altho his hands were so swollen, he didn't miss a chord. He always told me how much he enjoyed playing behind me and I would always tell him, he made me sound good. Which he did!! He called a lot of people Sis but he made me feel special. He would always refer to me as "My Sis". You can take comfort in knowing where Bill is and we will see him again. He is no longer in pain. Bill finished his race well. He knew how much he was loved down here and now he's with His Savior that loves him even more.

“ Billy and I went to Monahans hoping to find him a job during early 1980. He begrudgingly agreed to let me photograph him for a college photography course. He always had something funny to say about a situation.
