“ Charles is reunited with the love of his life and I am so happy for them. Heaven has another angel in His kingdom. I have so many good memories of Charles and Helen throughout my life. The sadness is overwhelming at times because I am missing a dear friend. We could talk, laugh and cry. He was a wealth of knowledge on living life to the fullest and the choice was his. My prayers are with you dear family. He will be missed and remembered in my heart. I look forward to seeing them again. Charles always had a joke up his sleeve or a sarcastic remark that made me laugh out loud! Never afraid to share his thoughts or his love. Helen said loving Charles was like breathing Well said.
