“ My dear brother in law, the good lord took you home way too soon. I just wanted to say what a great man and husband to my sister you were. We got the great gift of seeing you too when you popped in for Christmas last year. We had great conversation and your being there surprised us that you both took that long drive to come and celebrate the holiday with us. I thank you for being my sisters rock and true love. I miss you and I know that you here me when I talk to you still. May you rest in peace and love. I always know that you are and always will be watching and guiding my dear sister. With God I know that you are home but will forever be missed down here. God rest your soul.

“ So many memories it is so hard to pick one. You were always a great friend. We haven't seen you and Edna as much as we use to but we still love you both dearly. This has broken my heart. Please give Waya a drink for me. Love you always.

“ I don't know where to begin. The Day I met Jeff he had a mad on for a wasp nest. I helped him destroy it, but in the retreat from the mad wasps he fell and busted his knee. Nothing serious and we laughed about it later. Pam and I thought the World of Jeff. He was very smart, he was witty, and best of all he was a good friend. I regret that time, illness, and circumstance caused us to drift apart. We will miss him dear. Rest in Peace.

“ It's always hard to put into words feelings. I remember the night I first met Jeff and Edna. I had a great night. Jeff and Lindsey would come to visit, she would hang out with Devon while Jeff and I would sit and talk about multiple things. I always thought of him as a big teddy bear. We kept in touch even after I moved back to CT. He had a great sense of humor. He cared about people with that big heart of his. I will miss his posts on FB. Edna, please know I am thinking of you. All my love.

“ Jeff was a great guy with a passion for firearms and his 2nd amendment rights. He loved helping those of us who were less experienced with guns. Although we didn't see each other much, he always asked about my family and how things were with me. He will certainly be missed.

“ Thank you for being my friend and helping me learn the machines when I needed you. We loved having those long, animated conversations about our shared passions such as animals, machines, and our 2nd Amendment rights. I used to get tickled when I saw your expressions when I told you my stories. Thanks for always being there for me and helping me gain my confidence back on the job. You were truly a blessing that will always be missed. Love you Jeff

“ My dearest friend and husband. I will miss you more than you could ever imagine. Your crazy grin when you were up to no good. The Barney shoots twice a year because the purple dinosaur had to blow up into a million bits. The waterfall trips for the book you did not get to finish. Too soon!!! There was still so much to do!! You were so very loved.
