“ When I came across her picture here I knew I knew her! I scrolled and looked to try and figure out where I knew her from. The thoughts that kept coming to my mind were this was a child of God! This lady was so sweet to me! She and I talked numerous times about our Lord! Our spirits just connected. We even talked so much that I shared burdens(I had recently lost my dad) and cried together. I finally figured out where I knew this sweet soul. I had been going to Marc Learner Chiropractic and she always got me settled in my room. Oh I am so sorry for the family's loss. My heart aches for them. Just wanted to post my condolences and say that she was such a blessing to me in such a hard time of my life. No doubt God placed her in my path to share my heartache. May God give you all comfort and peace. God rest her soul. Shes in Heaven no doubt! She was definitely a Child of God! The Bible is clear that you will know them by the fruit they bare and she clearly shared her faith and was confident in it!

“ I rem that every time i went to Walmart, I always saw her, it seemed like every single time, and we would stand around talking forever. I saw her not long ago and she looked so good and always had a smile on her face and always seemed so happy to see you. I just rem what a sweet, kind and humble lady she was...She loved her family so so much. I know she loved God, and she gave him praises...i wish everyone in the world was as genuine and kind as Jenny Bugg...it would be a much better place. She definitely left a wonderful legacy for all who knew her. The world seems a little colder now without her here, but ive no doubt that this precious girl is praising God and being reunited with her family in heaven. Until we meet again, i will cherish my wonderful memories of my sweet cousin Jenny Bugg Holley
