“ So sad to say goodbye to such a giving, loving person. I have only known Jessica the last 8 months or so, she was my therapist following surgery! It was so exciting hearing her talk about getting engaged and planning the wedding! May you find peace in the wonderful memories of a special person, I thank God daily for the special persons he places in my life!

“ To all her Jessica's family and friends I share my heartfelt condolences. The first time I met Jessica during Physical Therapy school she had just finished a clinical rotation during her second year and was already offered a job! She was loved by all and all who worked with her sensed she had something special about her - the non-tangibles. She was caring, compassionate and fun. I am a better person for having known her. She has a light about her and I hope that light continues to shine and be a source of comfort and gratitude for all.

“ Jessica was one of the most caring, dedicated, hard working people I've ever met. As a physical therapist, she was the consummate professional-she did everything possible for every patient who came into her care. Her heart was always her guide and her eyes always let you see who she was and where she was coming from---her interactions were always honest and authentic. She was a gift to her our profession and to her community. My heart breaks for her family and all those closest to her. I hope the joy, love and compassion Jessica so freely shared will be returned to you and bring you some comfort and peace,
