“ Always had a big smile and a hug for me whenever I saw him. Had a way of making everyone he came across feel special. Will miss him and his beautiful smile.

“ Markaus was at our house often during his high school years. He and our son are close friends. We enjoyed his visits as he brought a keen intelligence to the discussions we had. He was extremely well read and funny! My husband had the pleasure of taking him to get his drivers license and remembers how nervous he was. Markaus was always willing to help around the farm-he helped stretch woven wire fence, build a carport and got a kick out of helping snake logs out of the woods. We enjoyed having his mother and sister for lunch and a visit. Markaus, our son and their friends enjoyed canoeing, kayaking and fishing on the Elk River, animated conversations, exploring the woods and camping out. Markaus enjoyed movies and knew many of the details of each movie which we discussed sometimes and he was always right on the details. Even though he didn't visit as often as before, we remained connected through our son. He is loved in our family and his joy and friendship will be forever missed.
