“ Several years ago, I went out to lunch with Nancy. We talked about common interests and she lent me several of her books on the subject. I appreciated her love of learning, pursuit of the truth and willingness to teach others about things that she was passionate about.

I am grateful that Nancy is now with the many that she loved that have gone before her, especially Hershell. And that she is in the presence of her Lord & savior, Jesus! I suspect that it might take all of eternity to ask the many questions that she doubtlessly is currently asking Him!
