Tribute Wall

“ I can always remember working on cars when i was a young buck with he always surprised me with his strength and ideas. He was my oldest brother and even though we have not talked in years he was loved and wished things were different, but they are not. Big Brother there is no more pain and no more problems no go to heaven and race them all the best are waiting on you to show them how it was done. I will never forget the words "Okay spin it" after you picked up the front of a vehicle and Harold could spin the tires for a couple bucks to show all around you were a powerhouse. will forever miss you and someday i will see you up there and show you i am as good as you taught me. Love and God bless, and God also take care of his family during these hard and grieving times.
