“ Hello Angie, Madison, Harley Grace and Marshall; my name is Kevin Gilliam and I got to know Curt through my work. I truly considered Curt a dear friend as well as a wonderful person to work with in the water industry. I can tell you all this, there was not a time when I was in Pulaski working with Curt that at some point we did not speak about each of our families. With that being said, I could see in him the love that he had for all of you as he would simply glow when he blessed me with conversations about you all as we would share stories. In addition, this "water family" extends entirely across our wonderful state and country and we will all keep you in our thoughts and prayers during these times of grief and into the future. Many prayers are with you all and God speed recovery for your injuries.
