“ Vic could walk into any room with a smile on her face and immediately ask how you could help. And help she always did. She were dependable, selfless, independent, and could accomplish anything she set her mind to.

She loved my babies and our family as if we were her own. The family trips and memories we shared are ones I will cherish forever. She could fish with the best of them and somehow cook even better.

We will miss Vic but grateful for every memory we were able to create! 💕💕
